

2022 Architecture of High Value Health Care National Conference
October 6-8, 2022, Baltimore Convention Center
Poster Presentation Instructions

Virtual and In-person Presenters:

All posters must be submitted electronically. We are planning a virtual session via Zoom and an in-person session on Friday Oct 7, both of which are optional.

Poster Content: Your poster may not include any copyrighted material, unless it is from an article that you published. You are encouraged to include an email address, but this is not a requirement.

Disclosures: The presenting author will be contacted by the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine CME office requesting disclosure information. Please include relevant disclosure(s) on your poster as well.

The following items need to be included with your submission:

1. PDF of poster. Landscape format; consistent sizing (standard PowerPoint slide size recommended)
2. A word document with the following details for each poster:
 - Title: please provide an abbreviated title (6-8 words max) to be list below each poster image in the gallery. Note - The full title will be visible on the poster itself, but we need abbreviated title for the online poster gallery.*
 - Presenter's name, title, institution/affiliation & e-mail address
Limited to 1 presenter maximum. Note - If the poster was created by numerous people, the other names will be visible on the poster itself.*

Submission Instructions:

- Please upload the word document, a PDF of your poster, and a JPG or PNG of your poster to this dropbox folder by Sept 15th at 11:59 PM EST
<https://www.dropbox.com/request/i9wRTjkrnlWB1RCY01DG>
If you cannot use DropBox, submit materials directly to: cat@exhibitormap.com

Note: The above electronic submission must be completed by both virtual and in-person presenters.

2022 Architecture of High Value Health Care National Conference
October 6-8, 2022, Baltimore Convention Center
Poster Presentation Instructions

In-person Presenters:

If you plan to attend the conference and want to staff your poster during the in-person session, here are the preparation instructions.

Poster Size: Posters should be no larger than 45 inches high x 45 inches wide to fit on the backboard.

Poster Content: Your poster may not include any copyrighted material, unless it is from an article that you have published. You are encouraged to include an email address, but this is not a requirement.

Disclosures: The presenting author will be contacted by the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine CME office requesting disclosure information. Please include relevant disclosure(s) on your poster as well.

Poster Setup: Posters must be hung by 1PM EST on Friday, October 7th. We will provide backboards and stick pins.

Poster Presentation Session: If you intend to staff your poster, the poster presentation session will be held Friday, October 7th in the afternoon (exact time TBA). Your participation in the live poster session is not required, but conference attendees would certainly enjoy the opportunity to discuss your work.

Poster Dismantling: Your poster must be taken down by 8PM EST on Friday, October 7th.
